

Julie Moody
Reporter/Producer

Julie Moody is currently the Arts and Cultural Reporter for KUT News. She was previously the local host for National Public Radio's Morning Edition for KUT News. She joined KUT in June 2002.

Prior to her arrival at KUT News, Ms. Moody worked as an entertainment reporter for KTBC Fox 7 Television. She also co-hosted the show "Majic in the Morning" at KKMJ-FM in Austin for nearly six years.

She started her career in radio as the receptionist at the NPR affiliate in St. Louis, Missouri (KWMU). Her first "on-air" job was in Fulton, Missouri at KKCA/KFAL. After a year, she moved to Luray, Virginia and worked as Program Director, Sales Manager and Disk Jockey for WLCC/WRAA.

Moody received a bachelor's degree in Business Administration from William Woods College in Fulton, Missouri.

Ms. Moody is married, mother of a 12 year old son and lives on a ranch in Bastrop County. She enjoys her free time hiking with her two dogs, Daisy and Cassie.